

Accessible Spring 2022 COVID-19 Syllabus Additions

In addition to the language required by Temple University's syllabus policy, the following information is provided to assist faculty in crafting syllabi for the spring 2022 semester. Some of the topics covered below are already required by the syllabus policy but may benefit from specific language related to the COVID pandemic. Where we have recommended verbatim language, we have done so in recognition of the fact that consistency in language across all syllabi will aid students in navigating their courses in this challenging environment.

Language is coded according to the following key.

- Bold font - we encourage use of this language, verbatim, in all syllabi.
 - Regular font - this information is also recommended, but not necessarily in the form provided.

TEMPLE AND COVID-19

Temple University's motto is Perseverance Conquers and we will continue to meet the changing circumstances of the COVID pandemic with flexibility and resilience. Working together as a community to deliver a meaningful learning experience is a responsibility we all share.

How This Course will Be Taught

- If meeting in person, meeting days and times and classroom number and building
- If meeting synchronously, meeting days and times and how to access the virtual classroom
- If meeting in a hybrid modality, all of the above
- If teaching in an asynchronous modality, how work in this class will be available and how the instructor will regularly engage with students (e.g. on Canvas)

Specify when the final exam will take place, if applicable, and how it will be administered. [Note that instructors teaching asynchronous courses may not schedule an exam for a specific time.]

Attendance and Your Health

To achieve course learning goals, students must attend and participate in classes, according to your instructors' requirements. However, if you feel unwell or if you are under quarantine or in isolation because you have been exposed to the virus or tested positive for it, you should not come to campus or attend in-person classes or activities. It is the student's responsibility to contact their instructors to create a plan for participation and engagement in the course as soon as they are able to do so, and to make a plan to complete all assignments in a timely fashion, when illness delays their completion. [Note: Please do not send students to Student Health Services for a note confirming reasons for absence.]

Course Materials

[This is a requirement in the new syllabus policy but is noted here for your convenience. Please craft the message to match the situation in your course.]

A statement that clearly indicates the range of possible costs of required course materials for the course must be included, such as: Required course materials are available from the Barnes & Noble Bookstore at Temple University and are listed in this syllabus. Students may obtain their course materials from any vendor they choose, or from the Temple University Libraries, if available. For this course, the cost range, including all books, online access fees, expenses, and other materials, is approximately [### -- ###]. [Alternately: This course has no required course materials that must be purchased OR The required course materials for this course are open educational resources and are available at no cost to students.]

Temple faculty members are encouraged to select course materials that balance excellence and affordability, recognizing that the potential costs vary significantly across disciplines and courses. Some students may be experiencing financial hardships. Where possible, provide ways for students to access course materials at no or lower cost, such as the Library's electronic reserve, EZ Borrow/ILLiad, etc. Clarify if older editions are available and appropriate, or whether the textbook is available to rent.

The following academic support services are available to students:

Remote proctoring statement (if applicable)

Zoom, Proctorio or a similar proctoring tool may be used to proctor exams and quizzes in this course. These tools verify your identity and record online actions and surroundings. It is the learner's responsibility to have the necessary government or school issued ID, a laptop or desktop computer with a reliable internet connection, the Google Chrome and Proctorio extension, a webcam/built-in camera and microphone, and system requirements for using Proctorio, Zoom, or a similar proctoring tool.

If you are requiring a room scan, you should consider including the following statement:

Before the exam begins, the proctor may require a scan of the room in which you are taking the exam.

Statement on recording and distribution of recordings of class sessions

Include a statement on your syllabi about your use of recordings and permission to record class sessions and any distribution of those recordings. See guidance on this.

Expectations for Class Conduct

The best way to maintain a safe and focused learning environment is for everyone to get vaccinated. Masks must be worn by vaccinated and unvaccinated people in all indoor or in enclosed spaces (including classrooms, the Library, the TECH Center, the Student Center, shuttles/buses, administrative spaces, common areas in residence halls, etc.). For your general health and well-being, hand washing and monitoring your health is still highly recommended.

It is also important to foster a respectful and productive learning environment that includes all students in our diverse community of learners. Our differences, some of which are outlined in the University's nondiscrimination statement, will add richness to this learning experience. Therefore, all opinions and experiences, no matter how different or controversial they may be perceived, must be respected in the tolerant spirit of academic discourse.

Treat your classmates and instructor with respect in all communication, class activities, and meetings. You are encouraged to comment, question, or critique an idea but you are not to attack an individual. Please consider that sarcasm, humor and slang can be misconstrued in online interactions and generate unintended disruptions. Profanity should be avoided as should the use of all capital letters when composing responses in discussion threads, which can be construed as “shouting” online. Remember to be careful with your own and others’ privacy. In general, have your behavior mirror how you would like to be treated by others.

Disability statement

In addition to the required disability statement, please bear in mind that COVID-19 may result in a need for new or additional accommodations. Students should seek out assistance from DRS.
